Robert Johnson, as the legend goes, met a man at a crossroads one night in Mississippi. Apparently no one ever told Daniels hubris can sometimes be a bad thing. I done told you once, You son-of-a-bitch, I'm the best that's ever been! AndhelaidthatgoldenfiddleonthegroundatJohnny'sfeet.Thedevilopened We all know it was Satan. Pam Windsor Contributor. Hisgratitudehasbeenaguidingforce.UneasyRider.The devil went down to Georgia He was looking for a soul to steal He was in a bind, 'cause he was way behind So he was willing to make a deal When he come across this young man Sawing on a fiddle and playing it hot And the devil jumps up on a hickory stump And said: Boy let me tell you what I guess you didn't know it But I'm a fiddle player too And if you'd care to take a dare I'll make a bet with you Now you play a pretty The Devil Came Down to Georgia fiddle, boy But give the devil his due I'll bet a fiddle of gold against your soul 'Cause I think I'm better than you The boy The Devil Came Down to Georgia My name's johnny and it might be a sin But I'll take your bet, you're gonna regret 'Cause I'm the best that's ever been Johnny, rosin up your bow And play your fiddle hard 'Cause hell's broke loose in Georgia And the devil deals the cards And if you win you'll get This shiny fiddle made of gold But if you lose, the devil gets your soul! The song begins with a disappointed Devil arriving in Georgiahaving stolen far fewer souls than expected, when he comes upon a fiddle-playing young man named Johnny.
